Our town of Westwood, once known as West Dedham, separated from its parent town, Dedham, and was incorporated in 1897. Only fifteen miles from downtown Boston, it has retained the charm and atmosphere of a country town. In spite of a population explosion during the nineteen-fifties, its annual Town Meeting has continued to furnish its citizens with orderly municipal government, and its children with fine schooling. As we, the Class of 1962, scatter in the years to come, we will always look back to Westwood as "Our Town".

Our Town

As graduation time approaches, we look forward to the time when we will be able to explore the unknown world around us. We will carry with us all the knowledge and learning we have acquired at Westwood High School. As we recall the many wonderful events we shared during our four years in high school, we shall remember especially the places where we gathered to study, to play, and just to be together. Our yearbook, Green Years, will help us to remember the important landmarks which contributed to our happiness, pleasures, and even our disappointments. When we open our yearbook, we may again relive our high school career and may recall our many friends with whom we spent our four years. As a result, we have chosen as a theme for our Green Years, "Our Town."

Dedicated to...

We, the Class of 1962, wish to dedicate our Green Years to a teacher who has been our class and personal advisor for four years.

Mr. Pender, we will always remember the many hours you spent in helping us with our prom. You have patiently assisted us in our school work and activities.

We wish to express our many thanks, Mr. Pender, and to assure you that we will always remember you as a dedicated teacher and a sincere counselor.

Directing School Affairs

A friendly advisor

To the Graduates:

May you always recall your high school days with pleasure, remembering particularly the good standards of achievement and citizenship the school has tried to teach. You have seen that hard, clean play and hard, serious work bring their rewards. Keep up your drive!

LEARNING TO READ, WRITE, SPEAK AND THINK MORE EFFECTIVELY

ENGLISH

Through the English Department, we have learned the use of the English language and have learned the appreciation of good literature. We hope we have mastered our language both orally and written. We are grateful to this department for we will always need and use the advice and teachings it has given us.

MATHEMATICS

Under the leadership of Mr. Pender, the Mathematics Department has developed our reasoning and thinking powers. The students have learned the fundamentals of simple geometry and algebra as well as more difficult fundamentals of trigonometry and calculus.

IMPORTANCE OF SCIENCE IS EMPHASIZED

SCIENCE

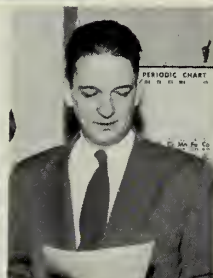

The students taking our science courses have learned much about our complex world of today. From the simple forms of life to the most complicated scientific work, the department has made our students want to study and do research on their own.

LANGUAGE STUDY BROADENS SOCIAL UNDERSTANDING

LANGUAGES

The students taking the many language courses offered at Westwood High School have learned the simple to the more complex studies of a foreign language. Many students will develop their skill in a language as they continue their education. The language laboratory has proved to be a success with all the classes in developing the students' conversational abilities.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The History Department has prepared us in the knowledge of long ago and of today. We will always carry with us their interesting and background material as we continue our search of the world.

PREPARING FOR ACTIVE BUSINESS CAREERS

In the Business Department, the students learn typing and the various techniques of office procedure. Through shorthand, typing, notehand, bookkeeping, and other related subjects, the students are well prepared to enter the business world. Business graduates of Westwood High School have established a fine reputation and displayed excellent capabilities.

ART COURSES ENCOURAGE BUDDING TALENTS

Mr. Wellsman

The Art Department, under the direction of Mr. Wellsman, has aided the students in developing their artistic abilities. This year's art show was another outstanding success in which the pupils were able to present the work they accomplished during the year.

MUSICAL ABILITIES ARE DEVELOPED

The Music Department has always been of special interest to everyone. The concerts put on by the chorus, orchestra, and band have brought much enjoyment to the students as well as the townspeople. Mr. Markarian and Mr. Monaghan deserve much credit for all the work they have done to make our music outstanding.

PROMOTING GOOD READING HABITS

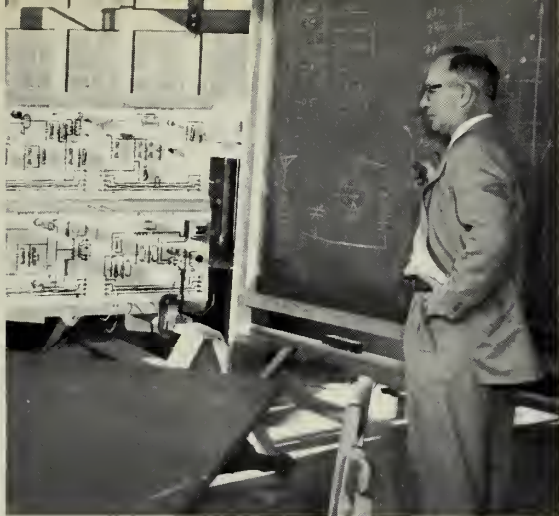

Mrs. Bradley recommends

Mrs. Bradley

Through the guidance and patience of Mrs. Bradley, we have been able to read and study many valuable books. We owe much to Mrs. Bradley for her co-operation in helping us find the books and information we have needed throughout our four years at W.H.S.

HOME ECONOMICS

The girls who have taken Home Economics have gained much valuable information which they will carry with them as they further their education. The students have learned the fundamentals of cooking, sewing, and of caring for a family.

Mr. Lyman, Director of Driver Education

SENIORS

As seniors we will never forget our fond memories of Westwood High School. We have enjoyed working together and helping each other. This year we are exceedingly proud of our scholastic achievements and our football and basketball teams.

CLASS SONG

We sing to you Westwood High
And will cherish our memories of you
As the light of the stars shining down on your halls
Meets the guiding light of truth.

While journeying on to our future
We'll be loyal to your name.
We're going onward, our aims are high
True to tradition we'll bring you fame.

As ever onward we may roam
We'll remember as time goes by
The friends we have left and the good times
we had
So often in Westwood High.

—Ruth Abernathy

CLASS POEM

POEM

As our four years of high school
come to a close
We must march forward not a memory to lose.
We'll often look back on these wonderful years
With a heart full of warmth and a few saddened tears.

You taught us to love, to honor
and obey,
To help one another in each and
every way;
To have understanding, compassion and trust.
These, Westwood High, you have given us.

—Karen Simpson

LOOKING BACK . . .

It's spring in Our Town. Another class is gettin' ready to leave the high school. Wasn't too long ago they were freshmen. They didn't know too much of what was goin' on then. They finally got together and elected Bob Chamberlin, president; John Cookson, vice-president; Dianne Watson, secretary; Edward Buzzell, treasurer. First thing they did was help American Field Service with a food sale. Then they helped themselves with "Cupid's Conflict." That dance turned Cupid's arrows right around and had the girls chasin' the fellahs. Come to think of it, that's the way it usually is anyhow.

Pretty soon they were sophomores. Bob Chamberlin was still leadin'; John Cookson was right behind him. Dianne Watson kept up the letter writin' and Edward Buzzell was handlin' the money. A food sale and a dance helped bring in some money for A.F.S. Two fine dances added a little somethin' to the class treasury. First one was "Autumn Leaves." That was a pretty thing. Other one was "Recuperation Rock." That was—well, guess you might say a little different.

Then they were juniors, real upperclassmen. Don't think they didn't know it! They elected Bob Chamberlin, president; John Cookson, vice-president; Dianne Watson, secretary; Mark Valencia, treasurer. That was quite a year. They saw the best football season in a while. Even had a dance, "Reismen's Romp," to honor the players. Basketball team did O.K. too—made the Tech Tourney. That was the year they called themselves the J.B.'s and the girls wore the boys' shirts and sweaters. Then came the prom, "Wonderland By Night." Prettiest prom this town's ever seen. No wonder, with all the work Claire Kroll and Joe Onorato did gettin' everything together; the garden, the rose-covered throne, even had a bridge with lilacs. Their favorite song that year was "Makin' Artificial Flowers."

Before they knew it they were seniors. Came quite a way from bein' freshmen. They elected officers for the last time: Bob Chamberlin, president; John Cookson, vice-president; Dianne Watson, secretary; Mark Valencia, treasurer. They had a couple of world travelers in the class now. Dianne Watson went down to Guatemala for awhile. Then A.F.S. sent Gerhard Horter all the way from Germany. That's over there in Europe. He put up with a lot of teasin', but he sure could dish it out, too. After this year's graduation it'll be kind of quiet up at the school without anybody yellin' "Hi Boddy!" Like most seniors, they've kept busy right up to the end. They had two fine dances in their last year. "Tanz deSieger" celebrated another fine football season. The second one, "Senior Reflections," took a stroll down memory lane, kind of like what we're doin' now. College Boards, applications, interviews, science projects, research papers—those things keep a person busy. Bill Corcoran took time out to represent them at the State House. Then came the prom, the class trip, Baccalaureate, and Class Day. The only thing they've got left to do now is thank everyone that helped them along the way: Mr. Chase, the faculty, and especially Mr. Pender, their advisor for four years. Things like that are kind of hard to say in words. "Thank you" doesn't seem enough somehow.

Nothin' much left now except graduation. Some of them will go on to get more schoolin'; some will start workin'; might even settle down here in Our Town. There's one thing they'll all do, though—look back at all the wonderful days they spent up at the high school.

SENIOR CLASS

Time: Year 2000

Place: Sheraton Plaza Hotel, Boston, Massachusetts

Situation: Reunion of the class of 1962

The gala evening had arrived. It was evident that hustle and bustle predominated the scene at the hotel, for JOSEPH GIANNI, the doorman, had sore feet. Joe gave a sigh of despair after witnessing the "smashing" arrival of three taxis. Out of the first, driven by DAVID DUVAL, emerged LORETTA CLARK, head stenographer of the State House. The Governor, JOHN SPEARS, had relieved Loretta and secretaries, PAMELA MASSEY, JULIA CORDARO, and ELLEN WHITE, of their duties for this festive occasion. From the second cab, chauffeured by WAYNE TAYLOR, came BARBARA TALBOT, who held the position of head librarian at the Boston Public Library. Seated in the third cab, was the distinguished Harvard professor, LEO HOLDERRIED, who was attempting to carry on an intelligent conversation with driver, GEORGE TRETHERWEY. These guests were greeted by the host and hostess of the reunion, STEVEN BEYER and MARCIA VAN DAM.

Suddenly from within the hotel came the disdainful shrieks of MARTHA NEYLAND, buyer for the Jordan Marsh Company. It appeared that she found the linen in her suite unsatisfactory. Upon hearing the complaint, ROBERT CHAMBERLIN, from the linen service, rushed in to proudly proclaim, "For your chamber maid choose Chamberlin-en." Thus, her problem was aptly solved.

Meanwhile, amid all this confusion, the pharmacist of the hotel, ALAN ROTHER, was quietly conversing with two former associates, CAROL McWADE and SUSAN PETERS, supervisors at the Massachusetts General Hospital. Whizzing through the lobby, upsetting the three, was the one and only stock-car racer, DAVID RICHARDSON. He was on his way for a haircut and shave at the DOUGLAS BARBOUR Shop. Not realizing the rate at which he was traveling, Dave collided with DONNA BERGSTROM, who was coming out of her establishment, "The B&H Beauty Parlour," managed by her and LINDA HUNT.

It was not long before another problem arose. It all began when the French interpreter for the United Nations, SUSAN CARELL, was practicing English in her room. All was fine until Susan happened to glance up from her thought-provoking position to find a face staring at her through a window close by. Frightened beyond doubt, the interpreter immediately called the desk clerk, LOUIS AMORUSO, who in turn called upon the hotel manager, WILLIAM CORCORAN. The latter, after puzzling over the incident, could find no explanation for the intruder, so he enlisted the help of the two hotel detectives, JOSEPH ELY and ROBERT MENTE. The two competent men discovered that the culprit was a window-washer, named RONALD GAUDETTE, who was intrigued by someone else talking and was compelled to find out what was being discussed, so that he could argue also.

Immediately following the last complication, the international playboy, RONALD PAINE, discovered an annoying drip in the faucet of his chamber. He rang for a messenger and was accommodated not by one, but by two messengers, RONALD and ROBERT HILBRUNNER. Having misinterpreted the complaint, the men told three of the chambermaids, SUSAN BALABANIS, EILEEN COSTELLO, and JOYCE KEITH, to assist Mr. Paine. Frustrated by the entire situation, he asked the owner of the hotel, BARRY POND, for an explanation. In turn, Mr. Pond sent plumber, STEPHEN NELSON, to mend the faucet.

Soon peace returned for a short while to the busy hotel. The place for renewing old friendships was the "Bloody Mary" Lounge, managed by MARY FLYNN. Assisting her were bartenders, JACK ANDERSON and JACK CONCREE, along with the petite cigarette girl, DIANNE MAFERA. In a secluded corner the Hollywood celebrity, KARIN PEARSON, was seen discussing the script of her latest film, "Peroxide," with the director, ROBERT VAUGHN. Entering the lounge were MARSHA RICH and CAROL MARTIN, models from the MICHAEL HAYWARD Modeling Agency. They were beckoned by their well-known designer, JOAN TUCCILLO, to give light to the debate between her and Bonwit Teller modistes, LINDA PETERS, SUZANNE PERKINS, and SANDRA PETERSON, concerning the latest Parisian modes. At the bar was seated the editor of Playboy Magazine, LESLIE LIPKIND, who was talking "shop" with publisher, JOHN SMITH, about RICHARD REED'S best seller, Tea Tasting for Fun and Profit. Also reviving an old acquaintance was featherweight boxer champion GEORGE SMITH. He and retired football player, JOHN COOKSON, were reminiscing about college days. George's manager, RICHARD JONES, ordered a second round of milk for all.

In the meantime, information clerk, MARGUERITE MONAC, assembled the welcoming committee, composed of PHYLLIS TYLER, SANDRA LUNDELL, GLENN JACKSON, ROBERT THOMPSON, RICHARD HARGREAVES, and JAMES ALLAN. The time had come for them to depart for Logan International Airport, escorted by police officers,

PROPHECY

CHARLES O'SULLIVAN and BRADLEY FINDLEN. Following the police escorted caravan were newspaper reporters, JACQUELYN SMITH and RICHARD YOULDEN. Upon arriving at the airport it was not long before the reporters found a scoop suitable for front page publication. The possible headline might read, "Seal Merchant Assaults Machine." It seemed that in his attempt to take out insurance, before he left for Alaska, PAUL KRISTENSON was confronted by a faulty insurance machine. In his anger, he proceeded to kick and box the apparatus, until repairman, WILLIAM HARRIS, came to the rescue. Photographer, STEVEN VANTINE, was on hand to take candid shots of the colorful situation.

Over the public address system came the velvet tones of ROBERT WOOD, announcing that "Flight 62" had just arrived from Washington, D. C., in spite of the inclement weather. The plane contained the personalities involved in the nation-wide Federal Court case, Labor versus Canaveral. Among the travelers were JOHN SLOAN, the attorney defending PHILLIP MANLEY, who was the supervisor of monkey cage construction at Cape Canaveral, and GEORGE KIMBELL, district attorney backing labor boss, WILLIAM MAGALETTA. Because of their electrifying discord as they emerged from the plane, the gentlemen failed to observe the welcoming committee. However, the pilot, RUDOLF PEKSENS, and the co-pilot, RICHARD SIMCOCK, fully appreciated the boisterous cheers of the committee. Last to leave the vehicle were stewardesses, RUTH ABERNATHY and CLAIRE KROLL, supporting the head flight surgeon, DR. EDWARD CAREY, who was unable to weather the storm.

In addition, the runways were cleared for the spectacular arrival of the German Ambassador to the United States, GERHARD HORTER. His private Piper Cub was piloted by GLENN WALLIN.

Alas, the bewildered cries of GAIL FOWLER, still tanned from her Hawaiian vacation, were heard as she attempted to flag down MARK VALENCIA, the airport chauffeur. After succeeding, she entered the car, with great delight in fact, for she found DIANNE WATSON, who was temporarily abandoning the revolutions in Guatemala, to be her riding companion. Upon reaching the hotel, the occupants of the car were relieved of their luggage by bellhops, DAVID DUNLAP and RICHARD MARIANO. They clumsily managed to trip up the stairs while the National Directors of the Boy Scouts of America, JOHN METTERS and RONALD HALVORSEN, looked on.

On the agenda for the evening was an elaborate banquet prepared by the head chef, ROBERT TUMMILLO, with the assistance of the jolly epicurian, FEDERICK HILL. First to be seated by CHARLES CRAWLEY, the maitre d'hotel, were the owners of the "3-M" Construction Company, DANIEL MORRISON, PETER MEISENZAHN, and ROY MORISON. The three were hungry, not only for food, but also for business. In fact, they were sincerely thinking of returning to Westwood High School to learn a few fine points on business administration. There, they would find BEVERLY SMITH as head of the Business Department. DOROTHY SILVER, proprietor of the Silver-Smyth Antique Shoppe regretfully informed the head waiter, PETER BIEGBEDER, that THOMAS MASSEY would be unable to attend the banquet because he was in the hospital as a result of accidentally upsetting two shelves of bone china. The assistants to the head waiter, EDWARD BUZZELL, JOHN KEEFE, and JAMES DINEEN, went about rearranging the place settings. A dedication was written by poet, JAMES LANDON, in his spare time, especially for this occasion.

For entertainment after the feast, a floor show was planned with STEWART FREEMAN, as master of ceremonies. SHEILA SAVAGE, making her singing debut, was featured throughout the show. Earlier in the day, the choreographer, DEANNA ALDRICH, could be heard exclaiming "Where did you ladies learn the elephant tango?", to the chorus line, composed of BARBARA BYRON, PENNELOPE THURSTON, DEANNA RICCIO, TERRYLEE WARD, BARBARA DOYLE, and CHERYL McNICHOLAS. To enhance the beauty and the excellence of the show, flowers were donated by ANN EOSCO's especially grown in her greenhouse, and an orchestra was added with renown musicians. Among them were concert mistress, RACHEL RALTON, pianist JANE REGIER, and SANDRA McGLAUFILIN, on her celebrated marimba. It was certain that the program would be an unforgettable success with such "great-name" talent.

The class of 1962 owed its most sincere thanks to the editor of the Boston Globe, DONALD PRATT, for his excellent coverage of this fantastic event.

A true "Wonderland By Night" awaited us as we crossed the bridge scented by fresh lilacs into a land of enchanting, beautiful flowers and silhouettes overlooking the colorful rock garden. The climax of our unforgettable evening occurred when gracious Elizabeth Petralia and handsome Bruce VanFleet were chosen as our queen and king. Our queen was crowned under a beautiful white trellis with twining red roses. The members of the court included: Janice Brink, Bette Cole, Barbara Talbot, Marsha Has- kel, Rachel Ralton, and Claire Kroll. Our gala affair represented many hours of hard work and planning by everyone in our junior class. Our prom is one of many pleasures we may look back upon in the many years to come.

UNDERCLASSES

We now look back at the Underclassmen who are following the same path we just completed. Although there are many stones hindering their progress, they will be able to overcome them as they approach their Senior year. We hope that they will have as many enjoyable experiences as we have had during our four years at Westwood High School.

CLASS OFFICERS

President—John Maguire, Vice-President—David Millane, Secretary—Rosalie Kovar, Treasurer—John Olson.

Advisor
Mr. Hancox

The Nahatan News is published monthly by the staff and its advisor, Mr. Hancox. We are fortunate in having a school paper that covers the life of the school and accurately presents it to the student body.

Editor, Philip Manly, has done a fine job as head of the various departments. The enormous task of compiling, reading, tabulating, and correlating was always accomplished in time for publication. An exceptionally fine job was done in covering the Tech Tourney finals at the Boston Garden.

Band Represents Westwood Throughout Massachusetts

Our Westwood High School Band, under the direction of Mr. Markarian, has displayed its unique formations and marching music at our football games. They added much spirit to our games as we watched their green and white uniforms march onto the field at the half.

In the spring, the band played a magnificent concert at the combined Orchestra and Band Concert. They also participated with the Springfield High School Band in an enjoyable concert at Springfield. Not only has the school enjoyed their music but also, the town. We wish to congratulate Mr. Markarian and the band for its excellence.

Dance Band and Orchestra Provide Top Entertainment For Town and Students

DANCE BAND

The students in Westwood High School's Dance Band play for local civic organizations as well as school dances. This year they played for the sophomore dance and gave an assembly for the pupils in the lower grades. They were honored by being asked to play for the dance sponsored by the District Chorus and their performance was commended by students and supervisors.

ORCHESTRA

The Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Markarian, has had a very successful year. This Spring the Orchestra participated in the Orchestra And Band Concert and they played for Graduation. In May they participated in a successful exchange concert with the Orchestra of Needham High School. Their performances have always been extremely commendable.

DOUBLE QUARTET

The Double Quartet, under the supervision of Mr. Markarian, deserves much credit for its superb performances. They sang such songs as "Mistletoe", "Moon River", and "Russian Picnic" at the various musical activities of the school. Aside from the school functions, the Double Quartet sang at various club meetings. On one occasion, they went to Dedham and performed for the Eastern Star, where they were well received.

On January 19th, the members went to Marshfield and participated with students from this section of Massachusetts in the Southeastern Massachusetts District Concert. In April, some of the members went to Pittsfield and participated in the All-State Concert.

The Students of Westwood High School are proud of the Double Quartet.

Under the direction of Mr. Sarris, the Science Fair Committee sponsored the Eleventh Annual Science Fair of Westwood High School.

Because of the large enrollment in the school, participation in the Science Fair was optional. Those taking chemistry and physics were required to participate. Much thought and effort was contributed by each student, and the Science Fair was a success. The Science Fair Committee deserves much of the credit for the success of the event.

Language Clubs Broaden International Understanding

The French Club, under the supervision of Miss Hemmings, has over seventy members. Although they may not be linguist, all enjoy attending the meetings held in homes around "Our Town." Through the club, many members acquired French pen pals and enjoy corresponding with their friends abroad.

The German Club, under the direction of Mrs. Lauttit, has had an enjoyable year. The members have gained knowledge of German customs and traditions. Gerhard Hoerter, our American Field Service exchange student, was an active member and presented programs on Germany illustrated with his color slides.

Wolverines Continue Fine Record

Co-Captains Cookson and Kristenson with Coach Reis.

Westwood finished a 6-2-1 season by tying Holbrook 14 to 14 in a game which Holbrook was heavily favored to win. However, the game to remember for this season was the 28 to 6 victory over Foxboro. It was the last time that Westwood played Foxboro and it was the first Westwood win over Foxboro in 17 years of rivalry. The Wolverines led their opponents in every category including total points scored—203 to 106—and total yards gained—2641 to 1635. The team was under the fine leadership of Co-Captains John Cookson and Paul Kristenson and was under the guidance of Coaches Reis and Cieri. The outstanding Seniors of the squad were Ed Buzzell, Pete Meisenzahl, Dave Dunlap, Ron Halvorsen, and Bill Corcoran.

Westwood Scoops Tech Tourney Class D Title

Piloted by Coaches John Cieri and Gail Thwing and captained by Dave Dunlap, the Westwood High School Varsity Basketball Team sailed through the 1962 season to become Eastern Massachusetts Champions of Class D Basketball. Finishing with a 16 - 4 record for the entire season, the team played its last two games at the Boston Garden. These games featured outstanding play by Seniors John Cookson, Bill Corcoran, Dave Dunlap, Ed Buzzel, and Juniors Dave Millane, Bill Bergen, and Charlie Taylor. This season stands as the greatest Westwood has ever had.

Corcoran breaks through to score.

TENNIS

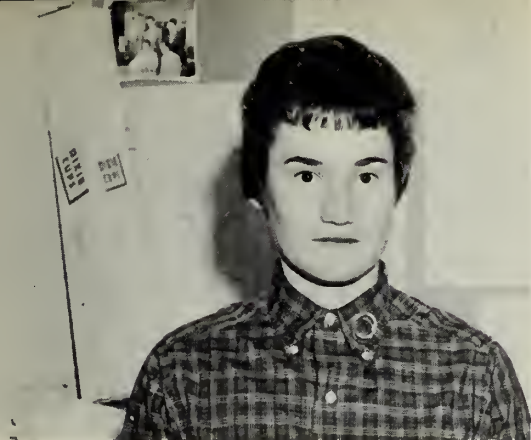

Left to right: Banks, Fay, Durdle, Beaumont, Diman.

Considering that it was their first year, the Field Hockey team did not have a winning season. They played four games and lost all but their faith. However, they improved with each game. Senior varsity players were Gail Fowler, Donna Bergstrom, Sue Perkins, Rachel Ralton, and Ellen White. Barbara Doyle and Joyce Keith were outstanding junior varsity players.

SOFTBALL

The basketball team, under the supervision of Miss Fazzi, didn't have a successful season in wins but did have a successful one in enjoyment. With Sheila Savage, Dianne Watson, Jane Regier, and Clair Kroll as outstanding guards, and Dianne Mafera, and Carol McWade as outstanding forwards on varsity, they joined with the team through tiresome daily practice. Of course, the junior varsity includes Dorothy Silver, Sandra Lundell, and Susan Peters, who also did a creditable job. Though it did not have many wins, the team deserves credit for its display of outstanding sportsmanship and team spirit.

Cheerleaders Root Teams to Victory

Go-o-o Westwood . . .

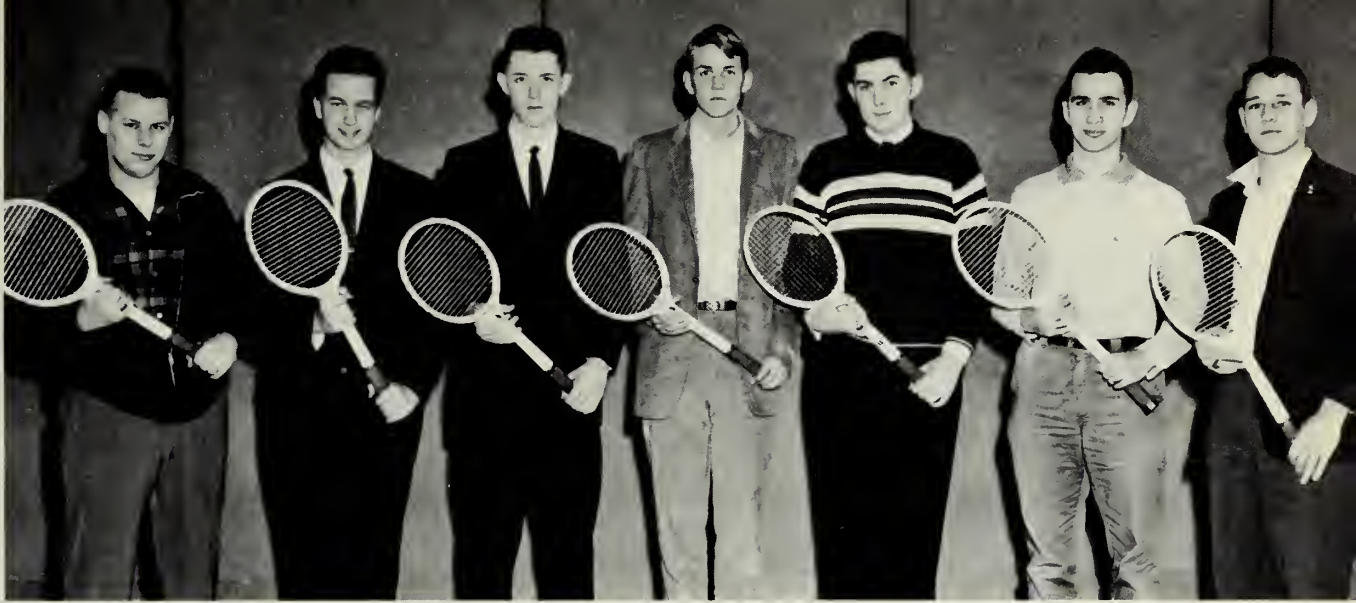

During the late afternoon hours, you can still hear the echoing voices of our Cheerleaders hard at work on new cheers and routines. This year our Cheerleaders have enthusiastically led our school in many cheers at the football and basketball games. Under the leadership of Claire Kroll, the members helped to lead our teams to victory. They have lent high-spirited support at the Tech Tourney Championship games. They deserve our congratulations for their hard work and success.

Was it muddy, girls?

TENNIS

The Tennis Team, under the leadership of Coach Chambers, had a very successful season. A combination of seniors, juniors, and sophomores, led the team to victory.

Many new skills were developed along with the sportsmanship and spirit typical of Westwood High School.

GOLF

First row, left to right: Dunlap, Hilbrunner, Spears, Vantine, Kirby, Reed, Barbour, Youlden, Mr. Thwing, Coach.

The Golf Team, under the direction of Coach Thwing, scored impressive victories over their opponents. Led by their captain Dave Dunlap, the team made creditable showings on all occasions.
